Explanations of monthly fees in packages Võrk 1. Võrk 2. Võrk 2 kuutasuga. Võrk 4 and Võrk 5:

- The amount of the monthly connection point fee depends on the size of the main fuse.
- The monthly fee for the apartment depends on the distributed part of the fuse at the connection point of the building.
 - * The monthly fee for apartments is mostly the same. The monthly fee of the apartment applies to the consumption places in the apartment building. where the distributed part of the main fuse is up to 16 A. Example: the house has 72 apartments and the main protection of the building is 250 A. 250 A: 72 apartments = 3.47 A distributed part of the main fuse.
 - If the distributed part of the main fuse exceeds 16 A. a monthly fee will be applied for the main fuses on the basis of a list.
 - If the distributed part of the main fuse exceeds 63 A. a double monthly fee needs to be paid.
 - The size of the distributed part of the main fuse is used only for submitting the monthly fee.
- If the price list does not specify the actual main fuse at the place of consumption. the monthly fee for the nearest main fuse applies.

 The user of a consumption point with several connection points may choose to pay for the use of all connection points on the basis of the total maximum simultaneous capacity. In this case, the network connection capacity fee based on the connection point shall not be applied.

The buyer pays for each connection point:

- Monthly network connection fee
- Network capacity charge on the basis of low-voltage agreed capacity (amperes) and medium-voltage agreed capacity (kilowatts) for the part exceeding 630 kW.
- If the price package includes usage capacity, the network connection usage capacity fee shall be submitted on the basis of the maximum usage capacity measured at the connection point in a calendar month. Power consumption is the average active power per hour.
- For reactive energy according to the reactive energy price list.
